ATTENTION CALLED TO DANGER

Of Parking Automobile on Bay St. Louis Bridge—Future Crash Inevitable

The injunction of "No Parking" on the Bay St. Louis bridge is so flagrantly violated that the surprising part of it is that no colossal crash and loss of life has not resulted. however, there have been a number of narrow escapes.

A car nearly turned over at the draw late one night this week in a swift movement to avoid crashing into the rear of the bridge tender's car parked within the narrow confines of the draw, and without a tail-light.

If it is wrong to park other people's car on the bridge it certainly is as much of a violation for the tender to park his. No doubt this condition will be remedied after some one or more persons have been maimed for life or killed.

The New Orleans Item publishes the following, front page box, directed "To the Supervisors of Harrison and Hancock Counties and to the Pontchartrain Bridge Management:

"Your bridge tenders seem to think they have the divine right of kings, which Charles 1 of England found wasn't so dog-gone divine, and park their own autos on your bridges where large signs with big letters say "No Parking."

"Particularly on the bridge between Bay St. Louis and Pass Christian is automobile traffic heavy and the bridge narrow. Some one of these days, or nights, a speeding motorist is going to pile into one of those bridge tender's cars and the kit and kaboodle will crash through the rail into the water."

GOOD-BYE PARTY FOR PASTOR

To Rev. Father Patrick McAlpine on Occasion of Departure Wednesday For New Charge In Vicksburg.

The leaving of Father Patrick F. McAlpine from the parish of Our Lady of the Gulf Church for his new duties at St. Paul's Church at Vicksburg on Wednesday of this week, has been the motif of many testimonial gatherings to wish him God-speed and good luck in his new parish; principally among these might be mentioned the good-bye meeting held in the Senior Study Hall at Saint Stanislaus College on the morning of his departure.

Father McAlpine celebrated his last mass for the Student body in the new chapel in the morning. Much dignity and solemnity was added to the occasion by the singing of Bro. Leonard's choir of picked junior voices. The entire student-body attended, and approached the holy table in honor of their departing chaplain.

A delegation of seniors waited on Father McAlpine at the Rectory of the church to conduct him to the college at 8:30 in the morning. On his entry, the entire student body which had been assembled in the study hall gave him a rousing ovation that lasted fully five minutes. He was accompanied to the rostrum by Brother Adelard, the vice president, and seated at the right of Brother Peter, president of the college.

Brother Peter delivered a masterful address of appreciation for the student body and the faculty, stressing the devotion of Father McAlpine to his duty, his unfailing kindness, his ready sympathy, his complete understanding that has endeared him to the boys of the college and the faculty during his four and a half years of service here. The sacrifice that our priests are called on to make was pointed out—how they must leave their homes and loved ones to answer the call wherever they are sent, even to foreign parts. "In entering the priest hood," concluded Brother Peter, "the whole family in raised to a new dignity, and the relations share in the blessings of the Supreme King."

The address was closed with a quotation from Father Ryan:

"To the Higher Shrine of love divine
My lowly feet have trod,
I want no fame—no other name
Than this—a priest of God."

Father McAlpine responded with a few well-chosen words, deeply touched as he was by the demonstration of affection, and thanked the student body and faculty for their loyalty and friendship, praised the boys for their devotion and expressed his deep satisfaction at the large number of boys who attend daily mass and communion. He closed with his blessing.

On behalf of the student body, Robert L. Camors presented Father McAlpine with a purse of silver and with a beautifully and completely equipped toilet kit.

A half holiday was given the student body at the request of Father McAlpine.

THRIFT IS SUBJECT OF MEETING

By Bay St. Louis Parent-Teachers' Association in January Meeting, Tuesday.

The regular meeting of the Parent-Teachers' Association was held at Central School, Tuesday, January 14. Under the leadership of their capable president, Mrs. Jas. A. Evans, the meeting was called to order.

The president expressed regret on behalf of the association, of the illness of many of the most faithful members, which resulted in the attendance being appreciably low. The president explained that January had been set aside for the observance of Thrift Week throughout the nation and that the program would convey how thrift might be intensified through our homes and schools. Caroline Ballard of the eighth grade, read a paper showing the influence of the home and mother in a child's regard for thrift. Little Ella Brooks Canty gave the story of thrift as portrayed by Benjamin Franklin. She impressed upon her audience that Franklin's life was a long one of usefulness and service because he learned in early life too much value must not be placed on unnecessary triviallties. Franklin stands out as a leader among any generation for his expression of the value of thrift and the evils which arise from over-indulgence and extravagance.

In the absence of the secretary, Mrs. H. U. Canty called the roll and read the minutes of the December meeting, followed by the financial report of the treasurer, Mrs. C. C. Mitchell. The reports of the subcommittees concluded with the question of furnishing milk to the undernourished children. Mrs. Evans having learned that the homes of the children needing the milk were unable to provide except in a few cases, a committee consisting of Mrs. Ashcraft Miss Tarver and Mrs. Evans were appointed to secure the milk as early as possible. The president announced that the date of the Sewell play had been postponed due to the illness of the desired Coach. The president announced the inability of a number of primar children to own books and the association authorized Mrs. Ashcraft to provide those necessary.

Mrs. Milton Phillips proved herself a worthy daughter and niece of an orator in a clear-cut and vitally-interesting message on thrift. She brought out the fact that never was there a time when the necessity of teaching children thrift was more essential than at a time when bread lines are longer, unemployed lists greater and over indulgence has brought want. It is up to the home and schools to teach children that we cannot live extravagance and not come to want. They must learn early that it is the fruit of the plant that provides happiness not just getting the plant, for the price of happiness is the price of our own efforts.

The interesting meeting was brkought to a delightful close by piano selections by Mrs. Smith, Schumann's Scheizo and Lento by Mozart.

BAY RESIDENT TELLS ROTARY CLUB MEMBERS OF 5000-MILE TRAVELS

George R. Rea Home From Trip West and North, Program Speaker For Bay Club—Tells of Varied Things And Observations West and New York—Great Things in Store For Gulfside.

By invitation of the Program Committee, George R. Rea, returned home a few days ago from an extensive trip first to Denver then to New York City via Chicago, was the programmed speaker at Bay St. Louis Rotary Club on Wednesday noon at Hotel Weston to a long table of local and visiting Rotarians and also private guests.

Introducing the speaker, the chair said Mr. Rea was a keen student and close observer and a man of much travel, he was admirably fitted to tell of the high spots of a five-thousand mile trip he had just covered. Mr. Rea is an engaging speaker; brief and his subjects varied and always of more than ordinary interest. Among other things, he said:

DENVER

"On approaching the midwest I found the entire country under blanket of snow. Arriving New Year's Eve the city still had its Christmas decorations which were quite elaborate. The Union Station was beautifully decorated, costing several thousand dollars. A small cottage was erected in a corner of the station making it homelike, a real chimney for Santa Claus to climb. Here on Christmas Eve every organization in town was invited to came and sing Christmas Carols using selected voices.

"The civic center was also wonderfully decorated in the center of which a huge Christmas tree was lighted with hundreds of electric lights. On top of the open air theatre was erected a log cabin in front of which Santa Claus had arrived in a life sized air-plane, the propeller running full speed at the time. At the foot of the building were several reindeer with several baby deer.

TOM SUTTON

"Since Denver Rotary Club meets regularly on Thursday, which was New Year's day, therefore, its regular meeting was postponed and I did not attend. However, I met "Tom" Sutton its past President, at a banquet of Kappa Sigma the night of January 2nd., Tom old me that the Denver Rotary Club had made him a life honorary member. He was commuting between Tampico Mexico and Denver. For the past six years he told me he had spent most of his time in the interest of Rotary and that he had visited most of the countries on the globe.

"On New Year's Day I saw a double-page advertisement of the Burlington Railway describing the Gulf Coast and Florida resorts and cheap rates were quoted to Pass Christian and Biloxi. At Denver I was asked what place I was from and on replying they did not know the location of Bay St. Louis, but I asked if they ever read about Marchie Schwartz and they said, "Oh, yes! he is from Bay St. Louis, Mississippi."

"Colorado produces a large quantity of beet sugar and silver; both articles are very cheap at present. Not a single time did I hear or see any evidence of the depression. The value of gold is fixed by Congress at $20.67 per oz. Several years ago the value of gold, compared to silver was 16 to 1, now the ratio is 65 to 1. This materially affects about 400,000,000 people on this earth since China. India and Mexico and a few smaller countries are on the silver standard and their purchasing power is reduced according to market value of silver.

CHICAGO

"Arriving at Chicago, I spent the morning at the University Club and left at noon over the Pennsylvania "Broadway Limited". This train was of two sections, consisting each of 9 Pullmans, 2 diners, club and observation. This train was crowded, notwithstanding there was an extra fare of $9.00 to New York. The average speed of this train was 50 miles per hour. I much prefer the Crescent Limited on the L. & N. which has the newest and best equipment of any train in the United States.

"The Broadway Limited has a "train secretary" who does complimentary stenographic work and looks after mail and telegrams.

NEW YORK

"It has been four years since I was in New York City and I found quite a change. Most all old buildings had been demolished and new ones constructed. The latest is the Empire Building, on the site of the old Walcorf-Astoria Hotel. Al Smith is the president of this building company. The Empire Building is 12 stories under ground and 85 stories above, with a steel tower of 6 stories for a mooring place for dirigibles and zepelins. This the tallest building in the world. They are planning now to erect a 105 story building, and thus progress goes.

"I spent the afternoon at the Chase National Bank, the largest bank in the world with $2,670,000,-

APPOINTEE TO ARRIVE FRIDAY P. M.

Successor to Rev. Father Patrick McAlpine Due This Friday Afternoon; Known on Coast.

Rev. Father Francis Deignan, from Birr, Offaly county, Ireland, is due to arrive in Bay St. Louis this Friday afternoon to succeed Rev. Father Patrick McAlpine, as assistant pastor to Rev. Father A. J. Gmelch, pastor of the church of Our Lady of the Gulf.

Fr. Diegnan hardly needs an introduction to the people of Bay St. Louis, for he has been a welcomed guest on many occasions, even at times assisting in the Parochial duties of the Parish.

Born in Ireland, Father Deignan volunteered for the missions of Mississippi. and in 1922, after finishing his college course at the famous Jesuit school, Mungret College at Limerick Ireland, he was sent to Genoa, Italy, and there in the Seminary Brignole-Sale for four years pursued the study of Theology. From this Seminary he was ordained in 1926, and the same year came to Mississippi to devote the years of his priesthood to the people of this State.

We can consider ourselves favored in having this learned priest come to our city, for besides being a deep student he is very fluent in the Italian language, a fact that will be of great interest to the Italian speaking members of the Parish.

The Jesuit College at Springhill has in its faculty Rev. John Deignan, S. J., a brother of Father Francis.

The Echo extends a welcome to Father Diegnan, and congratulates the parish on obtaining the services of such a talented and experienced priest.

MORE WAYS THAN ONE.

Congressman Kelley, chairman of the postoffice committee of the house of representatives, says that Postmaster General Brown's plan to increase the first-class postal rate from two to three and one-half cents will not meet with approval. He states that there are other and wiser ways to deal with the problem of postal deficits, and we are of the same opinion.

A DRAIN ON THE PUBLIC.

It has been estimated that New Yorkers contribute $18,250,000 anuually to street mendicants. That is a big drain on the public of one city, since investigation proves that in the vast majority of cases of "panhandling" there is no merit. Like conditions prevail in every community.

AS IT SHOULD BE.

Well, it looks at last like the new hospital for the State's insane will be completed after nearly three years of wrangling between Governor Bilbo and the building commission, they havnig come to an agreement a few days ago and the work of construction will be resumed at once.

HURTING THEMSELVES.

All is not lovely and serene within the ranks of the Republican party at the national capital. The big Ikes of the G. O. P. are going after each other in no uncertain way. Let them keep it up, as it will wake up the masses to the importance of making a change of administration.

NO WISECRACK SUBJECT.

Governor Bilbo has been made a complimentary charter member of the "International Association of Nuts." Before any of Theodore's enemies indulge in any wisecracking, at his expense, we will inform them that the association is a pecan growing organization.

A PRICELY SEAT.

Senator Nye makes the charge that $1,200,000 was spent by the Republicans to secure the election of Senator Davis of Pennsylvania. If that fact can be proven, Davis' seat should be declared vacant at the earliest possible moment.

A JUST REWARD.

The Board of Supervisors of Lamar county has passed an order offering a bounty of 50 cents each on large hawks and 25 cents on small hawks and owls. The move was made in order to protect quail and other small game.

Everett T. Batson has been sworn in as postmaster at Hattiesburg, succeeding Hon. E. A. Kernaghan who had been in charge of the office for nearly twenty years.

Visitors to New Orleans for Mardi Gras will have the opportunity of seeing the battleship "Wyoming," the newest and largest of all of of Uncle Sam's fighting craft.

President Hoover denies very emphatically that his administration is run in the interest of the capitalistic element. His denial has not convinced any one that such is not the case.

Nathan Strauss, philanthropist and leader in American Jewry, died in New York City last Sunday, at the age of 84 years. During his life time he contributed several millions of dollars to charity.

The house of a negro farm tenant in Jasper county was fired on by a band of white men one night last week. Bloodhounds were secured by the sheriff and they tracked two of the gang several miles and today they are in jail.

Newspaper advertising money is not "spent" —it is invested.—Wakefield (Mass.) Daily Item. We do not recall ever having run across more truth expressed in so few words, and it is a pity every business man or concern does not realize that fact.

A JUST DECISION.

The supreme court of Florida has quashed a permit granted a motor truck line paralleling the Seaboard Air Line railway on the ground that the railroad was adequately serving the needs of the territory through which it runs.

The opinion handed down by the court reviewed the act of the legislature, which gave the railroad commission, calling it "a general utilities commission with vast powers affecting the welfare of the entire State," and advanced the prediction "that the time will come when all passenger and motor truck freight, except heavy, bulky, low grade basic commodities will pass from the railroads, which own property and pay taxes, to motor lines which operate over highways built and maintained by the public for public use."

Inasmuch as our own State railroad commission has in recent months granted a franchise or permit to certain motor transportation lines to operate over a network of 3,914 miles of highways, the decision of the Florida court is of especial interest to the people of Mississippi. The action of the commission has been attacked by the railroads and our supreme court will pass upon the action of the commission, and we believe that the issuance of the permit or franchise will be held to have been illegal.

Every section of Mississippi is well and adequately served by the railroads and common justice demands that they be protected from unfair competition in the handling of their passenger and freight business.

We believe that at the next session of the legislature a bill will be passed which will curb the powers of the railroad commission and fix it that the motor passenger and truck lines will be made to pay for the privilege of operating on the highways of the State, for the construction and maintenance they are at present contributing nothing beyound a small license tax. If the bus and truck lines are to operate on highways constructed with tax monies paid by our citizens and the utilities corporations of our State they should be forced to pay their just proportion of the cost—past, present and future.

AWARDING A FORTUNE.

Sometime ago Conrad Hubert, an inventor, left a fortune to be used for charitable purposes. Calvin Coolidge, Alfred E. Smith and Julius Rosenwald were selected to decide the disposition of the money.

Four million six hundred thousand will now be distributed as follows: $500,000 each, Boy Scouts of Ameirca; Girl Scouts; St. Vincent's Hospital, New York; Provident Hospital, Chicago; Beekman Street Hospital, New York. $375,000, building for the New York chapter of the American National Red Cross. $250,000 each, Young Men's Christian Association, Jersey City; Jewish Mental Health Soicety, New York; National Committee for Mental Hygiene; Jewish Theological Seminary of America; New York University. $200,000 Children's Aid Society, New York. $175,000 Young Men's Hebrew Association, New York. $50,000 each, New York Founding Hospital; International Migration Service. William and Marry College and the University of Virginia are each assured of $50,000.

A large number of those who accumulate wealth in this country provide for its being used to help others, which is very creditable. If every wealthy man would do the same it would help promote human happiness and the welfare of many.

"THE WINDOW SEAT."

"The Window Seat" is the caption of a syndicated letter sent out to the press from Washington every week. It is written by W. D. Jameson, a former Iowa congressman who professes to be a life-long Democrat. We have been reading Jameson's stuff for several years and if the abuse and ridicule he hurls at Al Smith, John J. Raskob, and other Democrats who are now our recognized party leaders is to be accepted as true then he is sadly lacking in loyalty to the organization to which he cliams adherance. We have no patience with such party critics as Mr. Jameson. The Democratic newspapers printing his disloyal fulminations give endorsement to his attacks on the party organization.

A HARD THING TO DO.

It will require a wonderful amount of nerve on the part of a Hoovercrat to ask for a nomination at the hands of the party on whom he turned his back in 1928. It doesn't matter whether the office he seeks be high or low, his desertion of the national ticket in 1928 marks him a traitor to the one and only white man's party in the South and when his vote went in the ballot box marked for the Republican nominee he "burned the bridge behind him," and could no longer claim allegiance to the Democratic party. Yet there will be a lot of them who will have the monumental gall next August to seek office in the Democratic primary, perhaps thinking that their treachery has been forgotten.

PROTECTING A COME-BACK.

Some way or other The Echo is inclined to think that there is going to be another extraordinary session of the legislature, as we believe Governor Bilbo is to smart to accept full responsibility for the mess into which the State now finds itself, brought about by his failure to work in harmony with the lawmakers. Theodore still believes that the future holds further political honors for him and he is too shrewd to risk jeopardizing any chance he may have for a "come back."

A GOOD INDICATION.

Industrial plants in many parts of the State are resuming operation and hundreds of laborers are again being put to work. A good indication that better times are coming back.

A GOOD BILL.

A State senator in the North Carolina legislature has introduced a bill to bar from public office [illegible]

VIEWS OF OUR NEWS
By Chicagoan

Chicago Ill., January 13.—Unlucky day! But it's not Friday in the bargain, so perhaps I can write my letter just as well as I could were I to start it on some other day possessed of a number less suggestive of a hoodoo.

* * *

But even though the good news was delayed until today, Bay St. Louis would consider itself lucky to have received the offer of Mr. Weston's gift of trees for planting along the Old Spanish Trail. While the offer was made directly to the Rotary, it was made plain that any other fraternal or public organization could avail itself of the lumber company's generosity, so I expect to read in an early issue of The Echo of arrangements being made for the planting of the trees.

* * *

In Bay St. Louis the Rotary need not depend upon visitors to fill the speaker's chair at luncheons, as the regular reports in The Echo show. A week ago I commented on the talk given by Mr. Mauffray, and in last week's paper I read an interestingly written account of the speech delivered by Mrs. C. C. McDonald.

* * *

Real men compose the Rotary, and being such they know that they depend upon women to furnish many of the ideals, if not all of them, which guide them along the paths they have to tread. Mrs. McDonald stressed the fact that a man can achieve happiness only by performing his duty to his family and to his country, and then she pointed out that doing this constituted the aims of Rotary. After reading the account in The Echo, it would not surprise me to learn that other Rotary Clubs were inviting Mrs. McDonald to address them, and I'm sure their members would gain much from hearing her.

There may be those in Bay St. Louis who have thought of the possibility of the gas matter being settled a remote one. But last week's paper informed us that the Chamber of Commerce had appointed a committee to keep in constant conference with the gas officials, so new developments are expected every day. The folks of the Bay have learned the determination with which the Chamber of Commerce works for the betterment of the city, and they know that Messrs. Traub, Evans and Moreau work with President Rea on a project, such efforts will result in more than mere "gas."

* * *

Reading the schedule of the S. S. C. basketball team which was published last week, I was struck with the fact that the locations of the games were in the main "here" and "there," and isn't that just the way the ball will go when the strong Bay five meets its worthy foes?

* * *

It may seem strange to some of you that I actually read this column each week after its publication in The Echo. To tell the truth, I'm often ashamed of the many instances I find in which an improvement of my grammar would have been a very easy matter. That I'm able to notice them at all should be some defense against the charge that my errors are born of ignorance, and I assure you they are not intentional.

* * *

There may be professors of distinction and renown who will not agree that the chief purpose of language is to convey thought from one person to another, and these will not admit that a writer errs most seriously when he fails to make his meaning clear to his readers. All of this reminds me of the sentence said to be the most ungramatical one ever written. Remember it? Well, here it is again: "Them thar sheeps is yourn." Only by making it longer can that sentence be made more incorrect, and I'm sure there's not a child in Bay St. Louis who has passed the third grade without being able to tell that every word in the sentence has been used improperly.

Still, the fellow made himself plain, didn't he? And that's what I try to do.

LOCAL SIDELIGHTS

DOES THIS SEEM FAIR ASKS THE L. & N.

An advertisement of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad appearing in this issue of the Sea Coast Echo asks "Does this seem fair?" After publishing statistics relative to the amount of money the railroad disburses for public taxes, "exclusive of the interest on the heavy investment in these properties—roadway, rails, ties, buildings, etc.—that the railroads built at their own expense."

The advertisement continues, "Compare these amounts with those paid by busses and and trucks engaged in common carrier service directly in competition with the railroad. Unlike the railroad they do not contribute adequately in taxes to the support of our courts. schools and other public institutions. They do not share properly in the cost of construction and upkeep of the highways."

It is about time railroads were calling attention to this monumental inequality, and the only surprising part of the proceeding is that it has not been done earlier. Forbearance ceases to be a virtue and this advertisement is not only timely but the point is well taken. It is to be commended and is here approved. It appears the railroads should get busy and enter upon a most active campaign of education regarding this inequality.

ROTARY CLUB'S EMBASSADOR OF GOOD WILL.

Vice President Clem W. Weston of Bay St. Louis Rotary Club, who travels much this south Mississippi territory, attends Rotary Club luncheon-meetings in the different towns and cities of this section, and holding the position of honor and trust as V. P. Rotary Club, is acclaimed at all places and always accorded special recognition as is due him. It now devolves this is proving of publicity value to Bay St. Louis and represented by such a pleasing and substantial personality as Clem, to use the Rotarian custom of individual designation. It does appear his visits would rank him as Bay St. Louis Rotary Ambassador to the various clubs. He has "made up" meetings at every Rotary Club in South Mississippi but Wiggins, and there is always a royal welcome awaiting those who visit there. Wiggins sets the pace in more ways than one, and no less a leader is Oscar Bond.

BAY CHAMBER OF COMMERCE VITAL LOCAL FACTOR.

Sponsoring the movement to procure natural gas for Bay St. Louis and vicinity for domestic and industrial purposes, Bay St. Louis Chamber of Commerce. with its secretary, Mrs. M. Juden, acting as personal solicitor the work of collecting $5.00 meter deposits from some four hundred residents, is going on with accelleration and proving encouraging. Mrs. Juden has met with no refusal. On the contrary, since the proposition was published in the columns of The Sea Coast Echo last week, several property owners have voluntarily forwarded their check for the amount.

It will be remembered the Southwestern Gas & Electric Company (Insull interests with Coast headquarters at Biloxi), made it known it would apply to the city if so many signatures were procured, requestisg that gas be installed. Six hundred signatures were procured. Then the proposition was made known that at least from four to five hundred meter deposits at $5.00 each would have to be procured for further negotiation in the premises. Mrs. Juden, without assistance, has gone after these with a vim and enthusiasm that already spells success.

This is one of the various phases of work by the C. of C. and is another manifestation of the fact of how vital a factor the organization is in this community. The men behind the C. of C. are giving their time and best efforts for the benefit of the city and its citizens.

IMITATION SINCEREST FORM OF FLATTERY.

The weekly newspaper column of local items have often been the subject for shafts of criticism from the metropolitan dailies. In fact this jest has well become proverbial. It has been said that the slightest trivial matter of doings has found lodgment in the column of local items, and the object of such column seems to be able to print therein as many names as possible.

New features and proving to be factors of popular success is the inauguration of a somewhat similar column on the front pages of daily newspapers, the big metropolitan press. One paper heads its such column "The Periscope," another "Down the Spillway.' etc. These columns are highly newsy and entertaining, exceptionally well gotten up, professionally edited and are perused daily with more than ordinary interest.

In the last analysis, and it is said here in all good grace, such column is nothing less but akin to the "locals" of the Poor Bahed country weekly. How-Baned country weekly. However, the charge that imitation is the sincerest form of flattery still holds good. Let us have more such columns in the metrop. dailies.

ECHO HAS FORTIETH VOLUME BIRTHDAY.

The Sea Coast Echo. established January 9, 1892, has entered its fortieth year, and this is written as a result of the various letters and other messages that have come to the publisher from old subscribers and other friends of long standing, some local and a few from other States. Such messages are not only reassuring but give evidence of kind and thoughtful gesture and must be acknowledged in addition to the personal letter. While The Echo has never brought wealth to its owner-publisher it has brought a certain satisfaction that is worth more than gold and an element of more lasting value, for this newspaper has ever stood for a constructive policy. The effort has always been to build rather than to tear down, to encourage and aid every endeavor calculated to better the county, city and coast as well as the people of this section. We have always espoused every public movement calculated to better conditions; we have endeavored to aid every worthy project, whether of a public or private nature, to assist every man, woman and child, and this without pay. If we have succeeded in this is left to the reader, but the fact that we have tried to be consistent in this effort all through the long vista of a forty-year span is in itself of sufficient satisfaction and reward.

JAMES LEFEBVRE PASSES AWAY AFTER YEARS OF ILLNESS

Beau Brummell of Old New Orleans and Resident of Bay St. Louis For Many Years.

James (Jimmy) LeFebvre, former business man of New Orleans, and for many years since his retirement a resident of Bay St. Louis, died at his home at 12:30 A. M., Sunday, at his home in New Orleans at 1567 North Dorgenois street, following a complication of ailments superinduced from years of ill health.

To Bay St. Louis, where he resided for many years and which he had frequently asserted was his favorite place of business, the news of his death was received with sorrow. He was a most likable fellow and his acquaintances were well nigh friends. By his cordial personality he endeared himself to all with whom he came in contact.

Some few years ago he sold his Bay St. Louis holdings and returned to New Orleans, to be nearer his doctors and to be more conveniently located for immediate and more receptive attention. However, he always expressed a desire to return to Bay St. Louis and only a few months since, the end of the summer, he returned to Bay St. Louis and purchased a dwelling in Sycamore street, near Beach Boulevard, a home that he had occupied years previously. This satisfied him considerably. However, as the winter progressed his family returned to New Orleans and the home was closed.

The New Orleans Morning Tribune says of the deceased:

"His death marked also the passing of a one-time "champion clog dancer of the South." For such was the title Jimmy LeFebvre bore in the heydey of his youth. His dancing and his dressing equally made him famous.

"One of the pioneer merchant tailors of the city, he had in LeFebvre's Fashionable Tailoring Shop a gathering place for the Beau Brummels of the city, not least of whom was the proprietor. For, according to an article written about him, "he at one time was considered the best and most elegant dresser in New Orleans."

"Illness compelled his retirement several years ago.

"Prior to his entering the tailoring business he had a brief career in vaudeville. For some time he was on the boards at Faranta's vaudeville show, Bourbon and Orleans streets. Then his clog dancing gained him his title of champion.

"He deserted the stage to work for Bagur's, at that time in Decatur street and left Bagur's to open his own business.

"He is survived by his wife, the former Miss Marie Bagur; two daughters, Mrs. C. M. Curet and Mrs. F. L. Marshall; two brothers, Albert and Harry LeFebvre and one sister, Mrs. Marie Flandry."

The funeral took place at New Orleans Monday and the remains interred at St. Vincent de Paul's cemetery. Services were held at St. Rose de Lima Church.

The bereaved family have the sympathy of a wide circle of friends both in New Orleans and this section of the Mississippi Gulf Coast.

MRS. JOHN BENIGNO IS LAID TO REST AT ST. MARY'S CEMETERY

Native of Italy, Aged 51 Years—Survived by Husband and Family of Children.

Mrs. Catherine Guarliardo, a native of Italy, aged 51 years, and wife of John Benigno, residing on the Bay-Kiln road, on the outskirts of this city, died at the family residence Sunday morning, January 11, 1931, at 9:50 o'clock, following a comparative brief illness.

The funeral took place Monday morning at 10 o'clock, with a requiem high mass at the Church of Our Lady of the Gulf, with Father A. J. Gmelch celebrant, and Rev. Father Leo Fahey officiating at the funeral ceremony at St. Mary's Cemetery, where the remains were tenderly laid away in the family burial place, many friends attending the last obsequies, and numerous floral offerings testifying to the love and sympathy of many friends and acquaintances.

Mrs. Benigno, born at Corleone, a province in Southern Italy, came to this country nearly thirty years ago. She was one of seven children, the last of the number to pass away, and was also a sister of Mrs. Frances Guarliardo Loiacano, wife by first marriage of Anthony Loiacano and who passed away in June of 1917.

She is survived by her aged and widowed mother, Mrs. Manuel Guarliardo, and seven living children, namely, Josephine, Anthony, Sylvester, Norma, John, Sammy and Lucas.

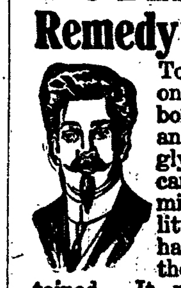
The BEST Gray Hair Remedy is Home Made



To half pint of water add one ounce bay rum, a small box of Barbo Compound and one-fourth ounce of glycerine. Any druggist can put this up or you can mix it at home at very little cost. Apply to the hair twice a week until the desired shade is obtained. It will gradually darken streaked, faded or gray hair and make it soft and glossy. Barbo will not color the scalp, is not sticky or greasy and does not rub off.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

"THE UNHOLY THREE."

From a subscriber of The Sea Coast Echo residing in Texas: January 12, 1931.

Editor Echo:

The enclosed clipping from your newspaper, headed "Hotel Tax Suits Violate Honor of State Government" shows the injustice toward capital in Mississippi and will retard investment in Mississippi for many years.

The four logical, tangible, sensible States that could or should be able to entice, induce emigration from snow and ice to warmer climate are Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana and Texas.

The Unholy Three, Bilbo, Long and Heflin have reflected the attitude of their States and Texas is now beginning to feel the effect of an assurance of good government by Ross Shaw Sterling as the public have come to realize and now recognize the shortcomings of what are actually our most backward States.

SPORTS AT STANISLAUS

Rock-A-Chaws Win First Game of Season—Defeat Aloysius by Score 44-13—Later Hoodoo Numerals Truse to Superstition.

The Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws opened the local Basketball season here with a decided win over the Panthers of St. Aloysius College of New Orleans, to the tune of 44 to 13.

The game was never in doubt after four minutes of play. The Rocks have considerable brushing to do before they have a smooth running machine, but Sunday's work gave indication of another good team. The work of Saucier was especially good helped along by Kidd Ducasa and Collotta. The Masterson boys too, held heir otwn and give promise of doing even better.

The Aloysius quintet did not seem able to locate the basket. Clesi and Daigle were the outstanding players for the New Orleans boys.

The Rocks will have a busy weekend starting Friday night with the Jones County Aggies; Saturday with Commy High and ending the week with Holy Cross.

ROCK-A-CHAWS TROUNCE ALOYSIUS IN 44-13 COUNT.

The Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws showed their superiority over their opponents by outplaying them in the whole game.

Although for the first five or six minutes, neither side scored, the Rocks decided to get together and play real ball. Aloysius played the man for man defense, through the whole game. They were scarcely able to get the ball past the guarding Rocks, and hence, were forced to shoot from center. Three of their goals were made in this manner.

The Rocks showed fine form in Collotta, Bill Masterson, and Kidd. Collotta did some stellar playing and showed to Aloysius that he was in the game.

Staub, Daigle, and Martina played good ball for Aloysius. Stanislaus is on its way to the championship of the Gulf Coast, and State. It will surely reach its goal if it continues to play as wall as it did in the first game.

Comment On Sports

COMMENDING MR. WEAR
NO CHANGE IN RULES.
TILDEN'S FUTURE.
SCHMELING STILL CHAMPION.
TO FIGHT STRIBLING.

We hasten to commend Joseph W. Wear, retiring chairman of the Davis Cup committee, for his opposition to any change in the rules governing these contests as long as a foreign nation holds the trophy. This answers the suggestion of Louis B. Dailey, retiring president of the U. S. Lawn Tennis Association, that players be limited to three or four years of Davis Cup play.

While agreeing with the general tenor of the change advocated Mr. Wear does not think that it would come with good grace at this time, inasmuch as it would eliminate some of the French stars who have won and held the cup. He says "We must be careful not to create the impression that we might at times be unable to use our best players—any nation that wins from our representatives should have the satisfaction of feeling that they have won from our best. We must not dim the lustre of any victory over us."

He suggested that the 1931 Davis Cup team be picked from George Lott, Jr., of Chicago, William Allison, of Austin, Texas John Van Ryn, of East Orange, N. J., John Doeg of Santa Monica, Cal., Gregory Mangin, of Newark N. J., Sidney B. Wood, Jr., and Frank Shields, of New York, and possibly Fillsworth Vines and Clifford Sutter. That aggregation, in a few years. will make any tennis players sit up and take a workout.

Every tennis fan ought to wish William T. Tilden well in his movie venture. Personally, we hope he makes a nice roll. Nobody has done as much to popularize the game all over the world as Big Bill, and his day of playing is not over. What he will get for his pictures is not known, but it is said that, afterwards, he will probably tour the world with Karel Kozeluh, the Czeechoslovakian professional, in a series of matches that should draw good gates.

That Tilden loved his game has always been apparent and his record, which includes fifteen national singles titles, nine men's doubles crowns and seven mixed doubles titles, is memorable. Sixteen of them were won on grass courts. In singles he won the grass title in 1921, 22, 23, 24, 25 and 29. On the clay court, in 1918, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, and 27. Indoors he reigned in 1920. Always he was a dramatic, hard-playing champion, one that made the game abound in interest and stimulate the audience that watched him master his opponents.

If the reader will take it upon the authority of the writer of these lines Max Schmeling is still heavyweight champion of the world, regardless of what the New York State Athletic Commission and the National Boxing Association has to do in the way of declaring the title vacant. When the German was given the fight with Sharkey, he got the title, such as it was, and the only way to get it from him, cleanly and acceptably, is for an American fighter to walk into the ring with him and come out, on top.

We have little sympathy for the New York commission, which, it seems to us, was entirely in the wrong in its attitude towards Joe Jacobs, Schmeling's manager. We don't blame Joe for not signing up to fight Sharkey in New York in June. Jacobs, according to his statement, would agree to fight Sharkey in New York only if Young Stribling refused to fight Sharkey in an elimination test. However, the commission, having made up its mind, stood pat, and Jacobs walked out.

This means that the next fight will be staged elsewhere, probably in Chicago, where Nate Lewis, with the Chicago Stadium under control, has offered the German $500,000 for a match in June. And, along comes the announcement from "Pa" Stribling that he had accepted terms from Lewic for the fight with Schmeling. In the meantime, it is considered unlikely that Stribling will fight anyone else, unless that, too, is a part of the deal. According to the Stribling announcement the Southerner will receive 12 1-2 per cent of the gate for his part.

STANISLAUS COLLEGE ECHOES

The Reverend Father Patrick McAlpine left us this Wednesday he has been called to Vicksburg, Miss.

Father Mac, as he is and has been familiarly known to all the boys, said his last Mass for us and the entire student body attended and approached the Holy Table as a testimonial to his goodness to us. Brother Leonard's Junior Choir sang during Mass, and their clear, bell-like tones added a solemnity to the occasion. Later in the morning a meeting was called that Father McAlpine might say a few words to us before he left.

As he responded, there was a huskiness in his voice and many of the boys developed sudden reasons to blow their noses, while the vision of many was blurred; for we have all come to love our Father Mac, after his four and a half years of service to us.

A purse and a beautiful and completely equipped toilet kit was presented to our beloved Chaplain, and best wishes for his continued success were showered on him.

Brother Peter declared a half holiday in his honor.

God bless you, dear Father McAlpine; our thanks and prayers go with you,—for you have been our Guide, our Counsellor, during these years when we need a man like you most—and through the years we will carry with us the recollections of the noble lessons you have taught us.

HENDERSON POINT BY A NATIVE.

Henderson Point is that beautiful settlement about mid-way between Pass Christian and the well known resort, Bay St. Louis.

It abounds in tall, stately pines. and a luxurious growth of tropical plants that add greatly to its beauty. On the south is the Gulf of Mexico and on the west is the Bay of St. Louis. The phrase "Nature's Gift to the Gulf Coast," describes Henderson Point with its splendid sandy beaches, excelling even the Florida beaches.

Then, of course. one finds that shady stretch of road known as "Lovers Lane." A jaunt or a drive thru this lane is heart thrilling.

Not least among the Point's beauties in the Inn-by-the-Sea, a nationally known hotel. designed along Spanish lines, and the resort of many tourists. At one time it was a rendezvous of Lafitte and his crew of pirates. Even today, treasure hunters work the "Point" for possible pirate riches. But the richest treasure that the writer, a native Pointer, has discovered is the gold of knowledge, that he is developing at S. S. C. across the Bay

The weekly sodality meeting was opened this week by a brief talk by Brother Edmund, on the necessity of perserverance. In his talk he stressed the necessity of perserverance and in overcoming temptations. "Because we fall once or twice it does not necessarily mean that we must lose all hope. No! As long as we have the inclination of overcoming sins even though we do fall once or twice we are on the road to success, and the desire for sin becomes less and less as we proceed with this method."

Brother Edmund also spoke about dues. He told the boys that a date would be fired in the near future before which all dues must be in. This will be talked over with the officers meeting and the set day will be announced at the next meeting.

President Richard Doggett then announced that he had medals and holy pictures for sale. at the small sum of one quarter.

Doggett's speech was followed by an address to the boys by Jack Horne concerning the missions and what a little charity means to them. He ended by encouraging the boys to share their spending money with the missions, as they are in dire need of finances.

President Doggett then closed the meeting.

WORK AND PLAY AT S. J. A.

SODALITY NEWS.

The Children of Mary held their first meeting of this New Year in the Second Room last Thursday afternoon at 2:30. Plans were discussed for the Reception of the twelve aspirants who have been waiting since September to become full fledged Children of Mary.

The ceremony of the reception is to take place in the early part of February. The girls decided that they would attempt a Missa Recitata, the recitation of the Mass prayers in common, on the morning of the day chosen for the reception. The next two or three meetings will be devoted to the learning of this Missa Recitation.

MONTHLY COMMUNION.

The Monthly Communion of the Children of Mary took place last Saturday at the seven o'clock mass. Only about fifty percent of the members were present, a rather poor start for the New Year. The weather, however, was most inclement and barring this condition we hope to come nearer to our much desired "100 per cent attendance" at the next monthly communion.

SODALITY OF ST. AGNES.

A meeting of the St. Agnes Sodality was held on Wednesday afternoon. Twenty-two little girls are entitled to membership in the Sodality in the near future. As the twenty-first of January is the feast day of the Patroness of the Sodality it was decided at this meeting that the reception of the new members should take place on that date.

BASKET-BALL.

The Jays have been literally sliding through their practice games since the New Year. The Gym floor was treated to two coats of oil during the holidays and it was a greater feat than any of our Jays could accomplish to stand on her two feet on such a slippery floor. However, after a few hard contacts with the floor, the oil has somewhat worn off so that the girls can now cross the floor in comparative safety.

S. J. A. VS. DEDEAUX WEDNESDAY NIGHT.

Much interest is being taken in S. J. A.'s game with Dedeaux to take place Wednesday night. By the time you get this Echo the tale will have been told.

Last year the Gold Jays played their first game in the Tournament against the Dedeaux team. After a hard fight the Jays finally defeated their opponents by seven points. Here's hoping they prove as fortunate in Wednesday night's game.

THE BOARDERS' LAMENT.

Why—oh! why must it rain on Sundays? It's bad enough when it comes on week-days but isn't it awful for it to come on Sundays and spoil our afternoon outing? Here we were all week, planning to go to the big game at the College Gym Sunday. But the Sabbath day dawned dark and dreary and contrary to all our hopes the weather kept on growing worse instead of improving as the day wore on.

The boarders held a veritable "lamenting party" in the Study Hall as the rain continued to pour outside. A few unfruitful tears were shed and finally the Seniors bravely marched themselves to the office to see if they could obtain permission to go to the game in spite of the rain. But all pleadings were in vain, and why? Because of that horried old rain.

So while all the lucky girls were having a good "ole" yelling time at the Gym the boarders resignedly (?) settled themselves to bridge trying to make their bids heard above the clamorous sounds of the radio. "It Ain't Gonna Rain no More" we hope —at any rate, not on Sundays.

Felt Bad After Eating

"BEFORE I started taking Black-Draught, three years ago, my health was very bad," writes Mrs. C. C. Carson, 945 Concord St., Beaumont, Texas. "I suffered constantly from constipation. I had headache when I got up in the morning, and I felt dull and sluggish. I hardly ate a meal that my food agreed with me. Frequently I would have gas on my stomach, and felt awful.

"I read about Black-Draught, and I thought it might help me. After I had taken it a little while, I felt much better. It relieves constipation. I keep it on hand so when I need a laxative I will have it. In the three years I have been taking it, I have never found anything as good for constipation."

PERSONAL AND GENERAL NOTES OF WEEK FROM WAVELAND AND VICINITY

By The Echo Reporter.

At a regular meeting of the Mayor and Board of Aldermen of the Town of Waveland held on the 6th of January, Mayor Schwartz recommended among other improvements, that the principal streets be illuminated, as soon as possible and early action on this matter is expected.

The new Board has employed Mr. Gaunt to audit books and is making good progress in his work; he complimented the secretary on the efficient way he kept the minutes of the previous meetings.

The auditor is installing a modern book-keeping system for the town and every thing hereafter will be handled on a strictly business basis, in order to relieve property owners paying excessive taxes. (While on this subject may I say that we are at the Saturation point, and if a stop is not made now, where will it lead to.)

Street Commissioner John Bordages filed a detailed report of expenditures, in each ward which will be done every month ,as exacted by the board, as they want results and intend to get value received for every dollar expended.

From now on, this town is going to be managed right; as the Mayor and Board consider themselves public servants, and not the public their servants.

* * *

The Mississippi Forest Service gave a lecture and ran several reels, showing methods of reforestation of cut-over pine lands.

The auditorium was packed to capacity and every one present, realized the danger and damage to property and young trees by burning over the land every year. We earnestly wish every one will be careful in the future, and give our young trees protection—for in a very short time our denuded land will be a thing of beauty instead of an eye sore as at present.

Mr. J. B. (Noonoon) Favre, is now constructing 550 feet of concrete sidewalk, curb and gutter fronting his property on Coleman avenue. Mr. Favre is one of our oldest and most wide awake citizens and believes in the future of the Gulf Coast. Mr. Favre invites all property owners to follow his lead, as he considers himself one of the youngest men in town.

He always said whenever Coleman avenue was paved, he would build sidewalks and he has lived up to his word. Our hats off to Mr. Favre and may he live long and prosper.

City Opening De Montluzin Avenue

The city continues its work of opening de Montluzin avenue through to Dunbar avenue, by no means a small task since so much uneven territory has to be overcome. This will be one of the wide and attractive avenues of the city and will appeal to the wants of the home builder.

The city is showing enterprise and the improvement in time will well and more than repay the effort and incidental expense.

RUDE 'MIKE' EAVESDROPS ON GAYNOR — FARRELL

Embarrassment Relieved When Stars of Raoul Walsh's "The Man Who Came Back" Discovers Microphone Is Not Connected.

An incident, that comes under the heading of "my most embarrassing moment," occurred during the making of Raoul Walsh's Fox Movietone production of "The Man Who Came Back," romantic drama, co-starring Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell.

The young screen sweethearts, who despite the gossip of fan magazine writers, never actually were sweethearts in real life, but merely the very best of friends, experienced the embarrassment the first day the picture was in production.

Not having seen each other for several months ,they had many things to talk over when they met on the set. They seated themselves, and talked away at a great rate for nearly half an hour.

Suddenly, Director Walsh called to them and pointed over their heads. They both looked up at the same moment, and were considerably flustered when they noticed a microphone above them.

Miss Gaynor blushed and Farrell looked more than a little confused.

After enjoying a laught at his stars' expense, Walsh then showed them that the microphone was not connected.

Both heaved great sighs of relief.

"You know," Farrel said, "we hadn't seen each other for a long time, and we've been such good friends for so long that we naturally had many things to discuss. But we're just as glad, at that, that the microphone wasn't working." Janet nodded her agreement.

"The Man Who Came Back," comes to the A. & G. Theater, Sunday and Monday. The production was made from the world famous play by Jules Eckert Goodman, which was a dramatization of one of the best sellers of all tmie, written by John Fleming Wilson. Edwin Burke made the screen adaptation, assisted by Director Raoul Walsh. The settings for this gripping photoplay were designed and constructed by Joseph Urban whose name needs no added comment. Miss Gaynor and Farrell are supported by an exceptionally able cast, numbering among its members Kenneth MacKenna, William Holden, Mary Forbes, Ulrich Haupt, William Worthington, Leslie Fenton and Peter Gawthorne.

POPULATION IN EIGHT DISTRICTS

Some Figures for The Lawmakers to Use In Redistricting.

Figures issued by the census bureau at Washington on Mississippi's population by Congressional districts are as follows:

Mississippi—First District 223,674, second 201,911, third 420,969, fourth 198,708 fifth 244,904, sixth 305,354, seventh 199,978, eighth 214,314. Total 2,009,821.

These statistics will serve as a guide for the degislature when it takes up the difficult task of redistricting one Congressional district.

The third district it will be noted, has a population more than double that of the second district, and leads the sixth district by nearly 100,000. However, the population of the third district is largely colored.

Much speculation is rife in political circles as to the possibility of the redistricting question being taken up by the present legislature, in even a special session is called next month by Governor Bilbo. However, the legislature cannot tackle the problem unless given sanction by Governor Bilbo to do so. Otherwise, it will come before the lawmakers at the regular session in 1932.

IT ISN'T SO.

Somebody is alawys coming along and upsetting old sayings and telling us things we thought true are not so.

The other day we ciipped the attached but have forgotten what publication we clipped it from. So, it is being reproduced below without credit:

Many a catch-phrase coined to express an alleged health fact is nothing more than a counterfeit.

Fish is a brain food, is one such phrase. But it isn't so, not any more than any other essential food.

Tomatoes do not thin the blood. Tomatoes do not cause cancer. Tomatoes, as a fact, are a desirable dietary article, containing vitamines A, B and C. They also contain calcium, phosphorus and iron .

Brown eggs are no more nutricious than white ones. The difference is only in the pigmentation of the shell. An egg eaten raw is not more digestible than a cooked one.

Acid fruits do not cause rheumatism. Red meat is no more harmful than white. To the healthy person both are useful—the sick person may be required to eliminate both from his diet.

Fruits eaten at night are not poisonous.

Acid fruits may be eaten with milk or cream. Water may be taken with meals, and no harm will follow unless the food has been bolted down. Even then harm is not certain to follow.

There are no poisonous combinations of foods. There are preferable ones, combinations which give dietary balance, good taste, and ease of digestion.

Most of these prejudices arise from isolated experiences upon which the uncritical have generalized. Food sensitiveness, by which is meant a peculiar intolerance of a single or of a group of foods, is a new phrase of medical science. That it exists has been well established, but it represents a unique rather than a general condition.

WASHINGTON CURRENT COMMENT

HALF a hundred eastern railroads are considering a merger, the details of which would be too intricate to discuss in this column, even if they were fully known. On the one hand, it seems reasonable to suppose that money could be saved for travellers and shippers if miles of parallel tracks, and an army of high-ly-paid executives. could be done away with. Then, too, the endless squabbles of competing roads over access to large cities and to the seaboard is costly. Considering that busses, trucks, and privately owned autos have made of secondary consequence, a few miles more or less, between the house and the station, these may be something in the contention that there are too many railways in the territory affected by the merger. On the other hand, a representative in Congress voices a general suspicion when he says: "No consolidation scheme so far has been in the public interest, and if this is in the public interest, it will be a novelty."

In a holiday radio broadcast, Mussolini declared for peace. Editorial comment is varied. Most of it boils down to this: "Is that so? Well! Well!

Norway has decided to permit Turkey to lecture on the Russian communistic philosophy within its borders If one may judge Norwegians by the members of that race who have done their part in building up the great Middle West, Trotsky will shoot his arrows against an armor of good sense and sound judgment which cannot be pierced.

It is said that the Senate will be asked to enact laws to curb election expenses. In principle, such legislation is wise, to the end that election day may not deteriorate into an occasion for auctioning off a place of public trust to the highest bidder. Practically considered, however, a campaign covering an entire state is a business matter of no small magnitude, an dcapital is required in the performance. What was done to obtain the office, and not the cost of doing it, is the important question.

Anyone who thinks that the country faces a depressoin which will end in the bottom dropping out of everything, will do well to note that a million dollars worth of water bonds issued by a mid-west city were sold at 104.03. The bonds were purchased by two firms who specialize in such matters and knew what they were doing. When a small governmental unit, such as a city, can issue a hundred dollar bill which shrew buyers consider to be worth $4.30 more than a hundred dollar gold piece, the sun cannot be said to be raising upon a day of general collapse.

By this time the tobacco pipes that were burried in the fulfilment of New Years resolutions are being dug up, and the meat eaters who committed themselves to a vegetarian diet are beginning to long for the flesh pots of Egypt. By the way, who ever heard of an old man who swore off on anything at New Years? Perhaps experience has taught the aged that it requires something more potent than a fresh calendar leaf to bolster up human weakness in carrying out a vow.

Marshal Joffre is dead. His work for France was not Napoleonic. To bear the tricolor to distant parts in a war of conquest was not his portion. His was a defensive, last ditch service, resembling that of Washington. If blood must be shed in international affairs, let there be augmented honor for him who stands upon his native soil, and spills the blood of an invading enemy.

An airplane has put out from New York for Europe, fuelling stations having been conveniently arranged, and the craft having been built for the entirely sane, if not equally safe, business of carrying freight to the Old Country. The experiment marks the dawning of a better day in aerial navigation. The airplane has done its part in providing thrills and amusement. Flying upside down, tail spins, and parachute jumps have lost their power to charm. The race horse is looked upon with admiration for a brief hour, once a year, at the county fair, but the welfare of the land depends upon the beast that pulls the plow.

EDITORIAL OF THE DAY

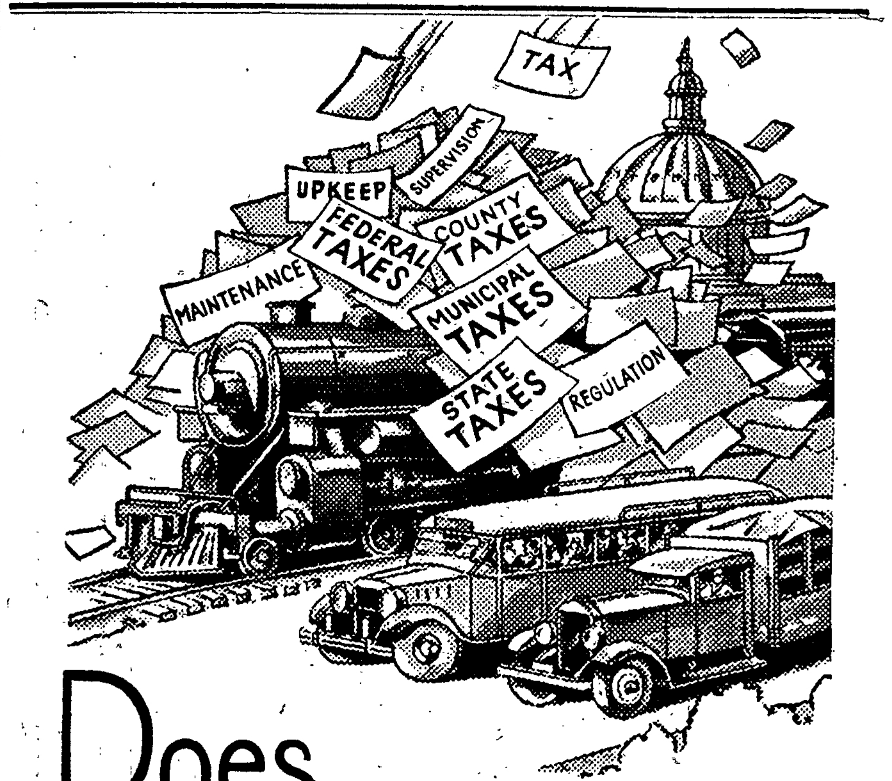
SOME GOOD ADVICE.

"I am convinced," says W. S. Johnson, treasurer of West Virginia, "that at least forty cents of every tax dollar collected in the United States is wasted." This is a startling statement, and may be somewhat exaggerated, but it should open the eyes of good citizens to the need of more efficiency and honesty in government.

The same official estimates that one person out of every ten is being employed by some agency of our government. He thinks that government could be operated with fewer employees, and he is possibly correct. The difficulty lies in knowing where the useless employee is.

The average wage-earner, Treasurer Johnson estimates, contributes one day's work of each week for taxes. Of course, the average wage-earner receives a wonderful benefit from the government in the way of education, health and fire protection, and through the many other activities, which modern government has assumed.

The same speaker enumerates three present dangers to Amercian government, namely, the corrupt use of money in elections, the laxity in law enforcement, and the pread of communistic doctrine to replace fundamental American principles. It will be noticed that the correction of these calls for co-operation and thought from every American citizen.—Yazoo Sentinel.



Does this seem fair?

THE OLD RELIABLE L&N LOUISVILLE & NASHVILLE R.R.

Over 22%, or $403,000,000, of the net revenue from the operation of the United States railroads in 1929 was paid into the public treasuries in the form of taxes.

In addition, 13.6%, or $855,000,000, of the gross receipts of the railroads was spent to maintain their own private roadways in order that the public might travel in greater comfort and ship with greater safety.

These huge sums were exclusive of the interest on the heavy investment in these properties—roadway, rails, ties, buildings, etc.—that the railroads built at their own expense.

Compare these amounts with those paid by busses and trucks engaged in common-carrier service directly in competition with the railroads. Unlike the railroads, they do not contribute adequately in taxes to the support of our courts, schools, and other public institutions. They do not share properly in the cost of construction and upkeep of the highways. Generally they select their class of traffic and assess their own rates, and are virtually free from the exacting requirements as to supervision of their operations, etc., now imposed on the railroads by government and state authorities.

The Railroads Must Earn To Spend

Such a situation is manifestly unfair and unjust and unless corrected will seriously impair one of the nation's most vital instruments of progress. Common equity demands that the thoughtful consideration of the public be given to these problems so that efficient railroad transportation may be sustained. All the railroads want or can reasonably ask for is a field of endeavor that affords equal opportunity for all.

000 of deposits. The officers, whom I met were strongly in favor of the United States cancelling the war debts due us by European countries. This sentiment was also expressed by several other New Yorkers. On discussing the financial situation with several bankers and capitalists every one thought that 1931 would be a better year than 1930, but recovery would be slow because every business would have to be readjusted on a different basis. For ten years business was going at a rapid rate until inflation and over-production brought havoc and depression inter-nationally. A new era and new basic values then prosperity will be in progress.

"I learned in New York City that most corporations had culled over their employes, giving preference to the efficient and loyal.

"Goldman, Sacks and Company, the largest brokerage house in New York has been employing 300 boys and young men. Recently they reduced this number and they employed detectives to learn where their employees spent their evenings and money. The 'rounders' and gamblers were eliminated. This should be a lesson to young men starting in business to be careful and efficient.

INVENTIONS

"I learned there is a sentiment against further inventions for labor-saving devices for the present. There is so much noise in New York that people have demanded relief, so Maxin who invented the "silencer" for fire arms, has met the demand by inventing a "silent" window for offices and hotels.

"AMOS 'N' ANDY

"Another thing I learned on this trip is the popularity of "Amos 'N' Andy" programs over the radio. The telephone girls of New York City say that their business practically stops locally and long distance during the program of Amos and Andy, so few are the calls in the interim.

GULFSIDE

"The next morning, representing the Chamber of Commerce of Bay St. Louis I attended a meeting in behalf of Gulfside Association of Waveland on invitation of Bishop R. E. Jones, the president and founder. I met here Drs. Alexander and Dillard, from Atlanta, who represented the Rosenwald Foundation from Chicago, and Messrs. Applegate and Packard of Rockefeller Foundation of New York. There were fifteen in all at the meeting. The architect presented some elaborate plans showing landscape and proposed buildings which if accepted and completed will make this place a show-place of the Coast. A party present said that Waveland Beach was superior to Atlantic City, that Atlantic City Beach was so commercialized and crowded that Waveland offered many better advantages. This project when assisted financially by these Foundations, will bring a large sum of money to be invested here, thus beautifying our section and giving employment to many."

The Oriole served an unusually attractive menu and the service of such as the hostess is noted for.
